

List of Evacuation Shelters and Sites

This list of evacuation shelters and sites is current as of April 1, 2022. Evacuation shelters and sites are periodically updated. Visit the Aomori City Website for the most accurate information.

Designated General Evacuation Shelters : Facilities that have a space indoors to evacuate to after a disaster and where people can reside for a set period of time

Designated Emergency Evacuation Sites : A location to evacuate to in the event of imminent danger

Designated Social Welfare Evacuation Shelters : Facilities catering to the elderly, disabled individuals, pregnant women, and other people who require additional considerations for residing in an evacuation center
 *These facilities do not open immediately after a disaster. They are secondary evacuation sites that are opened when deemed necessary.

Designated Emergency Evacuation Sites and Designated General Evacuation Shelters

*Facilities listed with a floor level in the "Availability" column are located within the area predicted to be inundated by a tsunami.

*Only facilities that will accept people in a tsunami are listed.
 *Because map #11 is only for the Japan Trench Model, the "Availability" column for the Nyunai Fault Model is crossed out.
 *A list of facilities for those people who require additional considerations is available on the Aomori City Website.
